The poster title goes here

P001

Your name and the names of the people who have contributed to this presentation go here.

The names and addresses of the associated institutions go here.

(Title: states the question/problem that you are addressing, sometimes in question form, Use bold typeface. Capitalize important words of title, but do not use ALL CAPS.
Title should be short, meaningful, and eye-catching (no longer than two lines). Avoid jargon or acronyms. Author(s) should be listed right under the title (Font size: 60). Font size: 70 - 80 for the title).

Introduction, Summary or Abstract

Font size: Headings about 44; Main text about 32 Captions about 28

Introduction: introduces your topic and briefly explains why your research is significant

Place your topic within context of published literature.
Clearly state your hypothesis.
Include just what is highly relevant. Minimize background information and definitions.

Wordcount: 200. Font size: Headings: about 44; Main text about 32

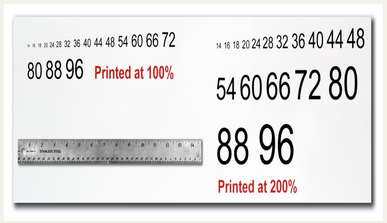

Figure 1. .....

Materials/Methodology

Materials/Methodology: tells readers what your research strategy was and how you actually carried it out

Briefly describe your research methods and any equipment or software you may have used.
You may also add figures, tables, flow charts, photographs, or drawings that describe your design.

Wordcount: 200. Font size: Headings about 44; Main text about 32 Captions about 28.

.....

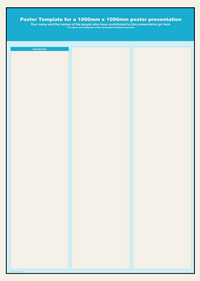

Figure 2

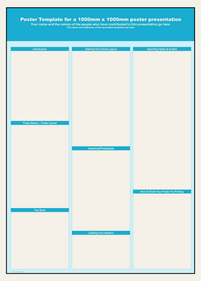

Figure 3.

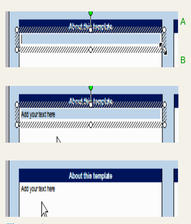

Figure 4.

Results

Results: what did you find out?

Briefly discuss your data analysis.
You may add supporting charts, images, tables, quotations etc.
Use captions that describe the graphics.

Wordcount: 200. Font size: Headings 44; Main text 32; Captions 28

Figure 5

Conclusions

Conclusions: This is where you summarize your hypothesis and results.

Focus on the main takeaway points
Was your hypothesis supported?
What is the significance of your findings?
Future research?

Wordcount: 300. Font size: Headings: 44; Main text 32

…….

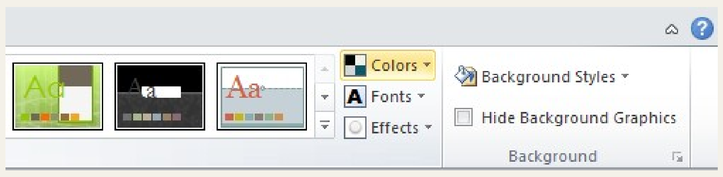

Figure 6.

Figure 7:

Table 1. .....

Introduction, Summary or Abstract	Conclusion
Materials and Methods	References
Results	Acknowledgements

References

Works Cited

Cite only the most pertinent articles.
Select a documentation format (APA, MLA, Chicago etc) and be consistent.

Font size: 24

Table 2. .....

TABLE SAMPLE
1998	1999	2000
2001	2002	2003
2004	2005	2006

Acknowledgements

Acknowledgments This section is optional but it is nice to acknowledge people who have provided assistance or funding for your project.

Thank individuals who made contributions to your project.
Thank research subjects.
Acknowledge funding sources.

Font size: 24-28

Contact Information

Corresponding author's Name

Address

Tel: +1 066 - 666666
Fax: +1 066 - 777777
Email: author@address.org
Web: www.yourwebsite.org